Momentum outcome-based investing philosophy

Investment success is about consistently maximising the probability of you achieving your investment goals – whether that is to preserve capital, generate an income stream in retirement or grow wealth within the parameters of a certain risk profile. In response to the ever-evolving investment landscape, we have constructed a range of outcome-based solutions that set their sights beyond mere benchmarks and instead focus on the things that matter the most to you – ensuring we maximise the probability of you achieving your investment goals. Outcome-based investing is about placing your goals at the centre of our investment process.

Investor profile and investment strategy

This portfolio is aimed at investors who are in the accumulation phase of investing. It has a medium- to long-term investment horizon and, therefore, the aim is to maintain an average exposure of 67.5% to growth asset classes (local and global equities and property), with a small allocation to defensive asset classes. The portfolio consists of the full universe of asset classes, including global investments of up to 45%, and alternative asset classes. The allocation between asset classes, within these balanced mandates, is actively managed, taking the market environment into account. Through the optimum selection of asset classes, the probability of achieving the outcome is maximised within acceptable risk parameters. Performance fees may be paid within investment mandates, should they sufficiently enhance investment returns after fees. It is suitable as a stand-alone portfolio in retirement products, where compliance with Regulation 28 is specifically required.

Quarterly portfolio commentary for Q3 2025

The global economy looks set to avoid recession, but growth remains lacklustre by historical standards, with trade tensions, weak investment and structural frailties weighing on activity. Protectionism is expected to push United States (US) inflation up as national imperatives eclipse multilateralism, while disinflation continues elsewhere. South Africa's (SA) economy is forecast to expand by a modest 1% in 2025 and 1.4% in 2026, buoyed by consumption but hampered by weak investment, fiscal strain and political fragility in the Government of National Unity (GNU). Softer inflation, however, should give the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) scope to cut interest rates further in 2026.

Strong gold and platinum prices underpinned a buoyant performance from the Resources sector of the SA equity market. As a result, the overall SA equity market provided the strongest returns of all main local asset classes in the third quarter of 2025. With strong commodity prices driving a stronger rand in the quarter, this also contributed to global asset classes underperforming local assets. SA nominal bonds rallied further in the third quarter as the SARB confirmed that the 3% bottom end of the official inflation target range was now their preferred goal. SA inflation-linked bonds (ILBs) benefited as local inflation embarked on a cyclical uptrend. SA listed property gained from falling local bond yields and positive earnings guidance from company managements. SA cash was the clear underperforming local asset class in the third quarter as the SARB continued to cut policy rates. Within the global asset space, global fixed income returns clearly lagged global equities in the third quarter. Fiscal concerns around the world and worries about Federal Reserve (Fed) independence undermined global bond returns. In contrast, US equity returns were supported by resilient economic growth and more aggressive Fed rate cut expectations. Moreover, as more tariff settlements with some major economies were forthcoming in the quarter, some uncertainty was removed from equity markets. A general risk-on environment caused emerging equity markets (EM) to outperform developed markets (DM).

The portfolio benefitted from the allocation to local and global equity as well as local bonds, delivering a return of 6.0% against the benchmark return of 7.2% for the quarter.
