Momentum outcome-based investing philosophy

Investment success is about consistently maximising the probability of you achieving your investment goals – whether that is to preserve capital, generate an income stream in retirement or grow wealth within the parameters of a certain risk profile. In response to the ever-evolving investment landscape, we have constructed a range of outcome-based solutions that set their sights beyond mere benchmarks and instead focus on the things that matter the most to you – ensuring we maximise the probability of you achieving your investment goals. Outcome-based investing is about placing your goals at the centre of our investment process.

Investor profile and investment strategy

This portfolio is aimed at investors who are in the consolidation phase of investing. It has a medium-term investment horizon and, therefore, the aim is to maintain an average exposure of 56% to growth asset classes (local and global equities and property). The remaining exposure is to asset classes that should preserve the purchasing power of the capital accumulated. The portfolio consists of the full universe of asset classes, including global investments of up to 45%. The strategies used include passive, enhanced passive, smart beta and select active investment strategies. The allocation between asset classes is actively managed, taking the market environment into account. Through the optimum selection of asset classes, the probability of achieving the outcome is maximised within acceptable risk parameters. It is suitable as a stand-alone portfolio in retirement products, where compliance with Regulation 28 is specifically required.

Quarterly portfolio commentary for Q2 2026

The Iran war remained the dominant influence on global markets during the second quarter of 2026, with investor sentiment swinging repeatedly between fears of further escalation and hopes for a negotiated settlement. Elevated oil prices throughout April and May pushed global inflation expectations higher and prompted markets to reassess the likely path of interest rates. Strong United States (US) economic data, especially labour market indicators, combined with more hawkish-than-expected commentary from new Federal Reserve (Fed) Chair Kevin Warsh, reinforced expectations that the next US policy move could be an interest rate hike rather than a cut. More bearish inflation and monetary policy expectations, together with ongoing concerns about fiscal profligacy, drove developed market (DM) bond yields to multi-decade highs, causing global bonds to produce the weakest returns among the global asset classes in the second quarter, while also weighing on precious metal prices. As a result, the gold and platinum exchange-traded funds (ETFs) were the weakest-performing investments for South African (SA) investors during the quarter. The decline in precious metal prices, combined with rand strength, also placed considerable pressure on SA resource shares. Although local financial and industrial companies generated positive returns, their gains were insufficient to offset losses in the resources sector, resulting in negative overall returns for the SA equity market in the period. Improving confidence that the Iran conflict would ultimately move towards resolution benefited SA fixed-income assets and listed property, with the latter ending the quarter as the best-performing local asset class. Global equities were the strongest-performing asset class in the quarter, supported by resilient US corporate earnings, continued enthusiasm around artificial intelligence (AI)-driven investment themes and moderating stagflation fears. Emerging markets (EM) significantly outperformed DMs, largely due to exceptional gains in semiconductor-heavy markets such as South Korea and Taiwan. Within DMs, the US delivered the strongest performance, with technology companies once again acting as the primary drivers of returns.

The Portfolio returned 3.9% for the quarter which was above the benchmark return. The marginal overweight positions in global equity and local property contributed to performance over the quarter whilst local equity stock selection detracted from returns for the period.
